WHAT IT HAS COST

Mortality Statistics of the Insurrection In the Philippines.

THE DEATH LIST IS 4,470

Figures Taken From the Adjutant General's Office Give Some Interesting Information.

In Almost No Case Did the American Troops Surrender to the Enemy.

Washington, July 24.—Major James Parker of the adjutant general's office has compiled some interesting statistics regarding the insurrection in the Philippines. There were 2,561 engagements with the enemy, more or less serious, between Feb. 4, 1899, the date of the battle of Manila, and April 30, 1902, fixed as the virtual downfall of the insurrection. The larger proportion of these fights were attacks from ambush on the American troops, or skirmishes in which only small detachments took part.

"In almost no case in these engagements," says Major Parker, "did American troops surrender or have to retreat, or have to leave their dead and wounded in the possession of the enemy, notwithstanding that in many cases the percentage of loss was high."

The number of troops that have been transported to the Philippines and have arrived there up to July 16 last was 4,135 officers and 123,803 men The average strength, taken from monthly returns for the period of the insurrection, was approximately 40,000.

Major Parker summarizes the casualties of the American army as follows: Killed or died of wound, 69 officers and 936 enlisted men; deaths from disease, 47 officers and 2,535 enlisted men; deaths from accidents, six officers and 125 enlisted men; drowned, six officers and 257 enlisted men; suicide, ten officers and 72 enlisted men; murdered, one officer and 91 enlisted men; total deaths, 139 officers and 4,016 enlisted men. Wounded, 190 officers and 2,707 enlisted men, a total of 2,897; killed and wounded and deaths other than by disease, 282 officers and 4,188 enlisted men; total, 4,470.

A large proportion of the deaths by drowning occurred in action or in active operations against the enemy. Major Parker makes the percentage of killed and wounded to the strength of the army, 9.7.

Two Were Drowned.

Savannah, Ga., July 24.—The sloop "Lovell Delle" owned and sailed by Captain Allen N. Calder of Thunderbolt, and having on board a pleasure party, was capsized in the Ogeechee river near Hell Gate during a squall, and Captain Calder's aged mother and infant daughter were drowned. Captain Calder's father and wife were seriously injured and the former may die.

Yaquis Lined Up and Shot.

Tucson, Ariz., July 24.—S. N. Jacks a merchant of Fort Worth, Tex., returning from the Yaqui river country reports having seen thirty Yaqui Indians lined up and shot Saturday at a small town called Torrin, in Sonora. The Indians had been captured in the mountains the day before. A number of them were mere boys.

Verdict of Acquittal.

San Diego, Cal., July 24.—A special from Ensenada, says that Governor Sanguines, who killed a prisoner, is still confined in prison at that place and that his trial by courtmartial has been held and the finding forwarded to the City of Mexico. It is said that the verdict is an acquittal, justifying him in shooting the prisoner.

Sentence Commuted.

Guthrie, O. T., July 24.—Governor Ferguson has commuted the death sentence of the Indian boy, Cephus Bruner, to life imprisonment. He was to have been hanged at Tecumseh on Friday of this week for the murder of Martin West, aged twelve, near Violet Springs, Okla., in December last.

It Causes Discussion.

Havana, July 24.—The matter of a loan still absorbs the attention of both houses of congress. The lower house takes the position that it will not vote the small loan of $4,000,000 which has been proposed, except as a part of a large loan of $35,000,000, to be used in paying the Cuban army.

Murderer Escaped.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 24.—A murder was committed last night in a drinking room in the rear of the Traction hotel. The victim is Agnes King of 139 Crawford street. The murderer, who escaped, is unknown.

A Gruesome Find.

New York, July 24.—The body of a man with the throat cut from ear to ear was found last night tied up in an old grain sack close to the shore at Bay Ridge, Brooklyn.

Two Hundred Drowned

Hong Kong, July 24.—A native steamer has capsized in the West river and 200 persons have been drowned.

Root Sails.

New York, July 24.—Secretary Root sailed to day for Europe.

ONE MAN'S GROWTH

How Hugh McGowan Rose From Position of Stable Boy.

Indianapolis, July 24.—The donation by Hugh J. McGowan of $10,000 to the national technical institute fund again calls attention to his wonderful career in the financial world. Twenty-five years ago he was a stable boy in Kansas City, working for starvation wages for the Kansas City streetcar company. A year or so later he was driver of one of the company's cars, and so genial was he that he began to attract more than usual notice for a car driver. He made friends who obtained a position for him on the police force, where he proved so competent that a few years later he was nominated and elected county sheriff. In this position, as in the others of a minor nature he had filled, he showed he was made of good material. Before his term was ended he was interested in asphaltum paving, from which time his rise has been meteoric. When the asphaltum trust was organized he was a factor, and it was not long until he became interested in other big projects. He was one of the leading citizens of Kansas City at this period, and is still a leader there, although he resides in Indianapolis. Three years ago he came to Indianapolis, untangled the streetcar muddle, got a good franchise, reorganized, and today it is one of the best properties of the kind in the country. Since coming here he consolidated the street and interurban companies at Cincinnati, and he is now practically at the head of that company. He has also been prominently mentioned as promoting a plan to merge all the interurbans centering here with the Indianapolis company, and in addition he has a plan for erecting a $1,000,000 interurban terminal station. It is not known how many large concerns he is connected with, but it is said that he has an income as great as that of the president. But McGowan does not forget his own early struggles, and he is regarded as one of the charitable men of the city, and his gift of $10,000 is pointed to as characteristic of his citizenship.

Jesse Overstreet, congressman for the Indianapolis district, is going to New York tomorrow or next day to confer with Congressman Babcock, chairman of the Republican national congressional campaign committee, of which Overstreet is secretary. Overstreet has been secretary in two or three campaigns and is in close touch thereby with the political situation of the country. He will practically be in charge this time, as Babcock has not been in good health lately. The fact is it is generally understood that Overstreet could have been elected chairman if he had cared to accept the position. He will spend most of the campaign in New York, leaving his campaign here to the management of his friends who have taken care of it for five or six years. Overstreet is confident that the Republicans will again control the lower house, and it is belived that many Democratic leaders will be glad if his prediction comes true, as they would not like to see congress of one political faith and the president of another.

"Cy" Neal, insurance clerk in the auditor of state's office, made the calculation today that financially the state was a heavy loser by the death of Clem Studebaker, the South Bend millionaire. He figured this way: Studebaker carried life insurance policies amounting to $300,000. It is the law that the insurance companies shall pay 3 per cent tax on the excess of the premiums over the losses paid. So while Studebaker carried the $300,000 it meant $9,000 a year to the state in taxes. Neal says that the life insurance companies, which are now making their semi-annual reports, show a big gain in earnings.

The Hon. Charles S. Hernly of Newcastle, former chairman of the Republican state committee, was here last night. He is apparently as enthusiastic as ever, although he is not playing a prominent role politically. Hernly has become a promoter on a large scale. He is trying to get an electric line built from Newcastle to Pendleton, connecting there with the Union Traction. He is receiver for a large shovel company at a fancy salary, and is associated with a number of energetic men who are succeeding in making a manufacturing town of no mean proportions out of Newcastle.

Hoosier Murdered.

La Porte, Ind., July 24.—Advices have been received here confirming the murder of Harry Ball of this city near Raton, N. M. Ball entered the restaurant of a man named Waite The bystanders became involved in an affray when, without warning or provocation, Waite drew a revolver and shot Ball dead. Waite escaped but was captured, and is now in jail under guard. Ball was popular in this city, and friends and relatives here will subscribe for the prosecution of his murderer.

Crushed By Cars

London, O., July 24.—A Swede employed on the Columbus, London & Springfield electric road, whose name could not be learned, met a horrible death last evening. While working at Markley Hill, a run of gravel cars was started down the hill, and before he could get out of the way he was caught and thrown underneath. Another workman received injuries that will cause his death.

Killed By a Bull.

Evansville, Ind., July 24.—Robert Pizer, a farmer near here, was gored to death by a bull.

A DELUGE OF RAIN

Illinois Flood Conditions Take Sudden Turn For the Worse.

FARMERS HOMELESS

Thousands of Acres of Rich Corn Lands Flooded By a Rapid Rise of the River.

The Illinois River Is Also On a Rampage and Causes Great Damage.

Clinton, Ia., July 24.—The worst flood in years is being experienced in Whiteside and Bureau counties on the Illinois side of the Mississippi river as a result of yesterday's deluge of rain. Two houses were washed away but so far as known no lives were lost. Hundreds of head of horses, cattle and sheep were drowned and the loss of growing crops is beyond estimate at this time. Thousands of acres of corn and unharvested small grain and a great deal in the shock was washed into the swollen streams and is a total loss. Hennepin canal and Green river are overflowed for miles and there is a lake seven to eight feet deep and ten miles long traversing the lowlands of these streams. A great number of farmers' families are camping on the hills or being cared for by more fortunate neighbors.

Lacy Levee Broke.

Havana, Ills., July 24.—A portion of Lacy levee at Havana was washed away yesterday afternoon by flood waters of the Illinois river, and 12,000 acres of land, 5,000 of which were under cultivation, are now inundated by water varying in depth from five to ten feet. Lacy levee protected lands just south of Havana. Just previous to the breaking of the levee the surface of the water stood at 19 feet 1 inch above low water mark and the water is still rising. Workmen struggled for hours in an endeavor to protect the levee. An alarm was sounded to warn the farmers in the flooded district. No fatalities have been reported. It is impossible to estimate the property loss with the water still rising.

Damaging Cloudburst.

Waterloo, Ia., July 24.—A cloudburst at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon did $50,000 damage and drove twenty families from their homes. At one time the business streets of the town were under from two to three feet of water and hardly a basement in the city escaped being flooded. Dry Run creek became a torrent and for the second time this year overflowed. No lives were lost.

THE LAW'S COURSE

Cockrill Faction Will Not Take Personal Measures.

Lexington, Ky., July 24.—A member of the Cockrill faction arrived here yesterday from Jackson, and after asking that his name be withheld because its publication would mean his assassination, said that the assassins of James Cockrill, who was shot there on Monday, are known. He claims that four men were in the courtroom when the shots were fired and that two fired from different windows simultaneously. These men were aided to escape during the night and their whereabouts are now unknown. He claims that the Cockrill faction will not undertake any assassinations, but will be inclined to wait until the law is able to bring the murderers to justice.

Slain At His Doorstep.

Cleveland, O., July 24.—J. Frederick Lyman, a distributing clerk at the postoffice, was killed last night by as yet an unknown man who called him to the door of his home and fired three shots at him, two entering his abdomen, resulting fatally within fifteen minutes. In an ante-mortem statement Lyman stated that he had no idea who his murderer could be.

Turned In the Air.

Detroit, Mich., July 24.—Alexander Smith lost his life here yesterday in an attempt to dive from the mainmast of a schooner lying at her wharf. It was ninety feet from his perch to the water, and in the descent he lost his equilibrium when about twenty feet from the water. He struck on his side with terrible force and was instantly killed.

In a Jealous Rage

Cincinnati, July 24.—Richard Mullen, aged 33, a fireman, in a jealous rage last night shot and fatally injured his wife, aged 17, and then shot his two-year-old baby. The woman was shot through the left breast, the bullet going through her body. She will die. The baby was shot twice in the left arm and is not seriously injured.

Inquest Begun.

Johnstown, Pa., July 24.—Coroner E. T. Miller has begun the inquest into the disaster in the Cambria Steel company's rolling mill mine on July 10, by which 112 men lost their lives.

Plot Against Sultan.

Constantinople, July 24.—Spies of the sultan have denounced a plot against his majesty's life formed by the palace enuchs. An investigation has been ordered.

IN GOOD TRIM

Experts Say That "Jeff" and "Fitz" Are In Fine Fettle.

San Francisco, July 24.—Jeffries indulged in but light exercise yesterday at the Reliance club in Oakland. He arose early and skipped the rope 1,600 times, finishing the ordeal with no visible sign of exhaustion. He then spent the lunch hour in comparative quiet with Delaney and his retinue of trainers, and in the afternoon took a row on Lake Merritt. He tipped the beam at 217 pounds last night, but expects to weigh 218 when he enters the ring on Friday night.

Fitzsimmons took a jog along the drives at Golden Gate park in the morning and was rubbed down at the Terminal hotel, after which he partook of a hearty luncheon and sparred with Griffin and Andy Gallagher at the Olympic club. Experts on the scene declare that there is apparently nothing further to be desired in the condition of the men. The concensus of opinion seems to be, however, that Fitz's age and the difference in weight is against the chances of the Cornishman, and that Jeffries is the logical winner.

Miners Marching.

Charleston, W. Va., July 24.—The strikers in the vicinity of Glen Jean were marching yesterday. Thirteen were brought here under arrest for violating an injunction. They gave bond for a hearing Friday in Charleston. According to the officials of the Collins mine incendiaries have set fire to the mine. They say timbers were placed in an old drift. Monday night oil was poured on the wood and set on fire. A rich vein of coal caught fire and several methods have been adopted to extinguish the blaze but without success. The drift where the fire is situated will be flooded today. The Collins main mine was working yesterday with 250 men.

Bold Train Robbery.

El Paso, Tex., July 24.—A Chihuahua (Mex.) dispatch reports the robbery of the Wells-Fargo express car on the northbound Mexican Central Tuesday morning of $53,000. Three Americans are said to have held up the messenger and looted the safe. The robbery occurred near Bermenillo. The bandits escaped but rurales are in pursuit.

THE LIST GROWS

Epidemic of Suicides In Indiana Doesn't Seem to Wane.

MORE CASES REPORTED

Three Farmers Do Violence to Their Lives By As Many Different Methods.

One Takes Arsenic, Another Jumps In a Well and the Third Hangs Himself.

Sullivan, Ind., July 24.—Charles Pigg, aged 20, son of Wiley Pigg, a farmer east of this city, attempted suicide by taking arsenic. No cause is assigned for the deed unless his mind was affected by a recent sunstroke. Pigg is in a precarious condition and has little chance for recovery.

No Cause Given.

North Vernon, Ind., July 24.—J. B. Moody, the train dispatcher who committed suicide at Jackson, Miss., was a resident of this city, and went there a week ago yesterday to accept a position.

Goshen, Ind.—Jacob Adam Fulmer, a farmer, aged fifty, hanged himself in a barn at his home near Napanee yesterday afternoon. He was found dead by his wife over an hour later. The cause is unknown.

Tell City, Ind.—Fred Keiser, a wealthy farmer who lived four miles from here, committed suicide by jumping into a well. His health had been failing for the past two years. He was 84 years old.

VENGEANCE DEMANDED

Warrick County People Aroused Over a Negro's Crime.

A Community Aroused.

Evansville, Ind., July 24.—The people of Warrick county are aroused as the result of Ed Gains, a negro, cutting the throat of Union Tzschoppe, a young farmer. People in the vicinity of Chandler and Stevens Station are much wrought up over the cold-blooded attempt to commit murder, and vengeance is demanded. The trouble started as a result of Tzschoppe objecting to Gains lighting his pipe while sitting on a haystack. The negro deliberately threw a burning match into the straw. The farmer extinguished it and drove the negro away with a pitchfork. Then Gains attacked Tzschoppe with his razor.

Made Them Sick.

Logansport, Ind., July 24.—At an ice cream social held in Dunkirk colored mission at Kenneth's stone quarries, an attempt was made to poison those who attended. Nearly fifty people were made deathly sick from eating ice cream that had been dosed with some drug, and although none will die, several were in a serious condition for some time. No motive can be assigned other than that there was opposition among certain residents of the village to the church being established.

Don't Want Unionists.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 24.—The management of the new Columbian enameling factory is discharging employes because they were forming a union. Manager Topping says that about twenty-five have been discharged, but the men say that upward of 100 have been let out. Mr. Topping says: "We want no labor troubles in the factory, and if you have unions you will have troubles sooner or later."

Bogus Money Found.

Logansport, Ind., July 24.—Boys who were bathing in Eel river discovered a quantity of counterfeit silver dollars at the bottom of the stream. Several pieces were procured and turned over to the police. The money was found at the rear of the house formerly occupied by S. B. Nickum of perpetual light fame.

Spurious Union Lables.

Brazil, Ind., July 24.—The Central Trades and Labor council of this city is considerably exercised over the appearance of what it pronounces bogus union labels, which are being attached to non-union goods and used to deceive the customers of union-made goods.

Boy Accidently Killed.

Nashville, Ind., July 24.—Charles Gillespie, aged fourteen, was instantly killed by his own gun. He jumped on a rail fence to reload the gun. The trigger struck the fence and the contents of the barrel lodged in his abdomen.

A Vote Called For.

Union City, Ind., July 24.—A petition has been circulated calling for an election on the question of a $26,000 subsidy for the proposed Dayton, Union City and Huntington line.

Choked to Death.

Princeton, Ind., July 24.—James Downey, an aged resident of Francisco, near here, choked to death as the result of a chicken bone lodging in his throat.

Death From Lockjaw.

Lewisville, Ind., July 24.—Charles Jackson is dead here from lockjaw. Vaccination and heat prostration are said to have been the cause.

TRACEY BOBS UP

Western Outlaw Pays His Respects to a Logging Camp.

Tacoma, Wash., July 24.—Harry Tracy, the outlaw, appeared at Miller's logging camp, four miles from Kansaskat, Tuesday, and ate dinner. Tracy is not wounded and looks fresh and rested. He is wearing a derby hat, but he had a slouch hat in his pocket. He still has his rifle and two revolvers and has a good supply of ammunition.

Tracy delivered the following message to Louis Ward, an accomplice, in a cabin on the shore of Sawyer lake, King county, last Monday: "Go back to Seattle anad tell the officers of the law and the newspapers, if you will, that I am not a hardened criminal that I am not thirsting for the blood of innocent men; that I am persecuted; that I am inspired to do as I have done only that I may continue in the enjoyment of liberty, which I have purchased at so great a price. Tell them that I shall never be taken alive and that I shall never be taken dead without first killing more than one of the men who succeed in accomplishing my end."

Danger Is Feared.

Berlin, July 24.—Court Chamberlain Von Morawski, a Polish landed magnate, has appealed to Emperor William not to visit Posen during the army maneuvers to be held in September, as his majesty had planned to do. The chamberlain fears that some Polish fanatic might attempt to harm the emperor. Racial feeling is described as at fever heat, and several Berlin journals take the view that it would be unwise for the emperor to expose himself unnecessarily. It is scarcely likely that Emperor William will act upon Chamberlain Von Morawski's appeal, because his majesty never permits himself to change his plans on account of the timidity of his advisers.

It Stirs Them Up

Paris, July 24.—The agitation provoked by the order of Prime Minister Combes to close the congregationalist schools recalls to some extent the scenes enacted when M. Ferry, then premier, expelled the Jesuits in 1880. Demonstrations in favor of the nuns and the teaching friars are taking place in Paris and many places in the provinces, where the prefects presented themselves at the schools and ordered that the institutions be closed. Up to the present, however, no serious incident has been recorded. The nationalists have joined the clericals in engineering the agitation, and their leaders are in the forefront of the effervescence in Paris.

Boer Traditions Preserved.

Cape Town, July 24.—Generals Botha and Delarey, who started from Pretoria Monday on their way to Europe, arrived here yesterday and were met at the railway station by large crowds. At a meeting held in the Dutch Reformed church later, thanking those present for the welcome extended to them, General Botha said he wished to impress upon his hearers the necessity for working hand in hand with the British, as South Africa was the only country they could call home. General Delarey said the Boers had buried their Mausers and their flag, but not their traditions.

Bad Man Still at Large

Aiken, S. C., July 24.—Deputy Sheriff Chester Ahl was killed by the desperado Johnson alias Jeffcoat, who four months ago killed a man named Wilson at Herndon, Ga., and on July 16 killed Deputy Sheriff Flanders, who tried to arrest him near Midville, Ga. Deputy Sheriff Ahl located him a couple of days ago and with a posse went to arrest him. As the party rode up to the house where Jeffcoat was stopping he opened fire and killed Ahl. Jeffcoat escaped into the woods.

After one woman has convinced a man that she would die for him he begins to look vaguely around to see if there are any more.—Atchison Globe.

A WOMAN'S RISK

As a trapeze performer is greater than a man's. She must have a man's courage and a man's muscle to succeed. But she must also work under conditions of which a man knows nothing. Many an accident to women acrobats must be attributed to the sudden weakness to which all women are subject at certain times.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription heals the womanly diseases which cause weakness. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"With pleasure I write to-day in praise of Dr. Pierce and his medicines," says Mrs. Mary Conway, of Appleton, Lawrence Co., Tenn. "Was troubled with female disease; the back of my head hurt me so I could not lie in bed and I would have to sit up, and then I would have such pains from my waist down I could scarcely raise up. My feet and hands would feel almost like ice. Since taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I can sleep well all night. Could hardly drag around before I took your medicine, and now can do my housework and help my husband in the field. Words cannot express the thanks I owe to Dr. Pierce."

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing more than a thousand large pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SENATOR McLAURIN, of South Carolina, has declined the appointment to a place on the bench of the court of claims.

SENATOR FAIRBANKS has returned to Indianapolis from a trip east. He will leave soon for his farm in Illinois to spend a few weeks.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE has received an invitation to deliver the address at the reunion of former Indianians now residing in Oklahoma territory. The senator is in the far west and has not yet replied to the invitation.

THE Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady has said that he stands up and tells his stories to a stenographer. Thus reads the capital short story in the August Lippincott called "The Final Propositions." It is a convincing episode of the Civil War told straight from the shoulder.

WE have just passed the 200,000 mark in railroad mileage. This means total mileage of railroad system. Of total track we have about 280,000 miles. This represents a capital of $12,000,000,000, with annual earnings of $1,500,000,000. A total of 600,000,000 passengers are carried annually and over 1,100,000,000 tons of freight. More than 1,000,000 men are employed, with annual wages exceeding $600,000,000. The figures relating to railroad business were by no means so large as these in 1896.

SEYMOUR never had a more opportune time to locate another new factory than right now. The proposition made by those back of the enterprise is reasonable and safe. It seems to us that nothing quite so favorable has yet been offered. It meets the approval of practically every one who gives it any thought. To locate this enterprise means much to every property and business interest in the city. It will benefit labor while the plant is in course of construction and then in operating it, for it will give employment to about 160 people when running. It will benefit the man who has property to sell or houses to rent. All the merchantile interests of the city will be benefitted very much. Since all classes will profit by such an enterprise every one should take hold and aid in securing it.

An Enthusiastic Meeting.

The meeting at Armory Hall last night was attended by a goodly number of citizens and a considerable amount of enthusiasm was manifested. The proposition for the location of a new factory calling for immediate action was considered, quite a number of those present discussing the matter, all looking upon the proposition with much favor. A soliciting committee was appointed and this committee is out working among the people today and is meeting with much success. If the people will respond quickly to the demands a splendid new institution employing about 160 hands can be located. Every one should be ready and willing to help this movement along. Quick responses are absolutely necessary.

Mose Bauer has been sick and unable to be at his store the past three days. He came down town to the barber shop last evening but became much worse and had to be aided home. He was unable to be out at all today.

FASCINATING DANGER.

The Perils That Beset the Builders of Big Bridges.

The design of a long bridge span is one of the most elaborate mathematical problems that arise in constructive work. The stresses produced by its own weight, by the weight of traffic, by locomotive drivers, by the hammering of flattened wheels, by the action of brakes on an express train, by the high speed on a curved track, by the wind and by the expansion and contraction of the steel in summer and winter are all accurately calculated. The deflection of the loaded and unloaded bridge is determined, and complete drawings are made of every member of it. The bars of steel are tested in machines which will pull in two a horsehair or a steel bar strong enough to lift half a score of the heaviest locomotives at once, and which will crush an eggshell or a steel column, and accurately measure the stress in each case. The different kinds of members are forged, riveted, bored, or planed in perhaps half a dozen remote shops, and, although usually not fitted together there, are examined and measured by specialists to see that they are correct, and are then shipped by scores of carloads to the site of the proposed structure, where steam derricks unload them and pile them many feet high in stacks covering acres of ground.

The bridge piers may rise above the water hundreds of feet apart. It remains to place them on a thousand ton structure, high above a savage chasm, over an impassable current or roaring tide, where the water is deep, the bottom of jagged rocks or treacherous quicksand, or where an old bridge must be removed and the new one built in its place without interrupting traffic on the bridge. To accomplish this the engineer has timber, bolts and ropes, hoisting engines, derricks and a band of intrepid builders who have perhaps followed him for years through more hardship and danger than fall to the lot of almost any other calling.

The complicated framework of a great span is a skeleton with many accurate joints and thousands of steel sinews and bones, each of which must go in exactly the right place in exactly the right order. The builder must weave into the trusses pieces larger, heavier and far more inflexible than whole tree trunks, swiftly hoist and swing them to place hundreds of feet high, fit together the massive girders and huge forged bars with watchmaker's accuracy, support the unwieldy masses until they are keyed together and self sustaining, and under millions of pounds of stress must adjust them at dizzy heights to mathematical lines. This he may need to do not deliberately, but in dangerous emergencies, at utmost speed, putting forth his whole strength on narrow, springing planks in a furious tempest, in bitter cold or in blazing heat. He may be in the heart of an African desert, menaced by bloodthirsty fanatics, or in a gorge of the Andes, hundreds of miles from tools or supplies, where there is absolutely no supplement to his own resources. Under such conditions bridge building is one of the most fascinating and difficult of engineering problems and requires a different solution for almost every case.—Frank W. Skinner in Century.

THE GREAT JOKE, DEATH.

Funny Side of Dying Often Treated of In Literature.

"Death," said a publisher, "has been treated humorously in our literature often. Indeed I am quite sure that a collection of many thick volumes might be made under the title of 'Death's Funny Side.' Thomas Hood was one of our best writers of this sort of verse. Don't you remember his ballad on the young sailor who died heartbroken over his girl's unfaith? The last stanza was:

> "His death, which happened in his berth,
>   At forty odd befell;
> They went and told the sexton, and
>   The sexton tolled the bell.

"Hood did another ballad on the subject of a soldier who lost both legs in battle, who was in consequence jilted by his sweetheart and who then hung himself. Now, that is rather tragic, is it not? It has a bizarre but none the less poignant tragic note. Guy de Maupassant indeed once handled almost this same situation, but he handled it from the opposite viewpoint, and don't you remember how he narrated the first, the crucial, meeting of the lovers after Ben Battle's double amputation?

> "But when he called on Nellie Gray
>   She made him quite a scoff,
> And when she saw his wooden legs
>   Began to take them off.

"This treatment drove Ben to despair:

> "So round his melancholy neck
>   A rope he did entwine
> And for the second time in life
>   Enlisted in the line.
> "And there he hung till he was dead
>   As any nail in town;
> For, though despair had cut him up,
>   It could not cut him down.

"There is a tremendous literature of humorous epitaphs. There must be, I fancy, 10,000 of these, but two of them are all I can recall. The first goes:

> "Here lies the body of mild Maria;
> She went one day to start the fire,
>   But the wood was green,
>   So she used kerosene,
> And now she's where the fuel is drier.

"The other is grimmer:

> "Life is a lie, and all things show it;
> I thought so once, and now I know it.

"Then there are songs on the side splitting aspects of death, some of which have caused tender hearted ladies to double up with mirth. 'Johnny Jones and His Sister Sue' is one such song, and I bet that six people out of ten in America know it by heart.

"Yes," the publisher concluded, "under the title of 'Death's Funny Side' an anthology of many, many volumes could be made. The anthology should be bound in black pigskin, with grinning skulls and crossbones tooled in gold on it."—Philadelphia Record.

A Matter of Principle.

"Why is it," says the girl, "that in giving an account of an accident they always give the age of the person injured? I can see the sense of their talking about blonds and brunettes, a mustache or full beard if it is a man or a red, green or blue gown if it is a woman, for that is a means of identification for acquaintances and friends who may be interested. They don't even put the age in the death notices now, but if you meet with an accident out it comes in all the papers in town. But they will never publish mine. I have it on my mind every time I cross the street, and when there is a particularly bad crowd I say to myself, "Now, remember, if you are run over here, no matter how badly hurt, you are to remember never to tell your age. It's a matter of principle."—New York Times.

Rejected Fortunes.

Professor Bell had a strenuous time over his invention of the telephone. He took the first working model of his instrument to John A. Logan and offered him a half interest for $2,500, saying that it would do away with the telegraph and that there would be millions in it. Logan replied: "I dare say your machine works perfectly, but who would want to talk through such a thing as that, anyway? I advise you to save your money, young man." Bell then offered a tenth interest to an examiner in the patent office for $100 in cash. It was refused. That tenth interest was worth $1,500,000 in fifteen years.—Pearson's.

Rather Airy.

"There is an acquaintance of mine," remarked the doctor, "who gives himself airs because he was given up to die thirty years ago and has kept himself alive till now by taking oxygen."

"How old is he now?" asked the professor.

"Over eighty."

"He's what you would call an oxygenarian, is he?" said the professor, looking at him with half shut eyes.—Chicago Tribune.

An Appropriate Name.

"It is a pretty name," the impressionable traveler murmured, "but tell me why do they call you Manita?"

There was an arch smile on the savage maiden's face.

"Evidently," she said as she signaled to her brothers, who were concealed in the brush with clubs, "you do not know our favorite food."

Suspected It.

Cashier—I can't honor that check, madam. Your husband's account is overdrawn.

The simplest remedy for indigestion, constipation, biliousness and the many ailments arising from a disordered stomach, liver or bowels is Ripans Tabules. They have accomplished wonders, and their timely aid removes the necessity of calling a physician for many little ills that beset mankind. They go straight to the seat of the trouble, relieve the distress, cleanse and cure the affected parts, and give the system a general toning up. The Five Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year. All druggists sell them.

Soldiers Drowned

A Humble Apology.

"We feel that an apology is due," explains the editor of the Spiketown Blizzard, "to the estimable young woman who teaches at the schoolhouse in District No. 5. Through the wretched blunder of a worthless tramp printer whom we trusted with the setting up of an item just as we were closing the forms for our last week's edition we were made to say that 'Miss Ruby McConnell, the handsome and popular teacher in Riggs neighborhood, is the proud possessor of an elegant new black beard.' We wrote it 'blackboard.'"—Chicago Tribune.

An Argument For Social Frankness.

It is best to be sincere, as a family in Germantown recently found out. They had been entertaining a distinguished novelist from abroad who was not altogether acquainted with society's way of saying things it does not mean. The time came for her departure, and as the host was handing her to the carriage he said very courteously, "I am sorry you cannot stay longer."

To which came the unlooked for retort, "Oh, but I can!"

There was only one course open. The trunks were taken down, the carriage sent away, and, to the consternation of her hosts, the lady re-entered the house.—Philadelphia Times.

The Best Liniment for Strains.

Mr. F. H. Wells, the merchant Deer Park, Long Island, N. Y., says: "I always recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm as the best liniment for strains. I used it last winter for a severe lameness in the side, resulting from a strain, and was greatly pleased with the quick relief and cure it effected." For sale by C. W. Milhous.

LIKE A BURGLAR

Disease creeps into the house of the body like a burglar, silently and subtly. The best thing to do is to keep the burglar, disease, out of the body. The next best thing is to drive him out if he has obtained entrance. The greatest safeguard against disease is pure blood. The purity and richness of the blood depend upon the number of red corpuscles it contains. These are the policemen of the blood, and when strong enough promptly seek to eject the intruding microbe of disease. It is when they are numerically weak that disease gains a foothold. Whatever will purify the blood and enrich it with the red corpuscles of health will resist the progress of disease in the body and gradually drive disease from the blood.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies and enriches the blood. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands so that the body is abundantly supplied with the red corpuscles of health. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures scrofula, erysipelas, eczema, salt-rheum, boils, pimples, sores, and other diseases which are caused by the impurity of the blood. It purifies the blood and keeps it pure, and so strengthens the body to resist disease.

"I feel greatly thankful for what your medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. Chas. Hood, of Kalkaska, Mich. "I suffered with scrofula of the head for twelve years. Tried every kind of medicine that I heard of but found no cure. Every one that looked at my head said they never saw anything like it. The last doctor I doctored with before applying to you I got worse every day. Was so miserable that I was unable to do any work at all. After taking two or three bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and using the local treatment you prescribed for me, I was cured and my head was entirely free from scrofula."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach and blood.

THE BURGLAR ALARMS of the body are the symptoms of disease. These symptoms are taught and explained in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing over one thousand large pages of valuable medical instruction. This great work is sent FREE on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing ONLY. Send only 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume.*

HIS ENGLISH FRIEND.

A Visit That Wrecked the Nerves of an American Host.

"I've been having the time of my life, I tell you," said the suburbanite gloomily to his city friend at lunch.

"What's the matter? Pipes burst? Furnace won't work? Dog killing the neighbors' chickens?" asked the friend, sympathetically running through the list of the suburbanite's usual grievances.

"No; worse than that," sadly answered the first speaker. "I've been having an English friend visit me. It's years since I've been across the water, so one or two of his ways were a little strange. The worst of his doings was what has broken me up so. He went to bed the first night before the rest of us, and when I came along the corridor an hour or so later there were his shoes standing outside his door and frightfully muddy too.

"I looked at them in astonishment. Then I remembered the English custom of having the boy come up for the boots. We keep only two servants, you know, both women, and of course in the country you have to rub them the right way or they'll leave. I knew perfectly well that if I told either of those free and independent Irish women to clean the Englishman's shoes we'd be left servantless, and that would have been the death of my wife.

"I lifted the shoes gingerly by two fingers and carried them to my room. When I thought the servants must be asleep, I crept down stairs and got to work with a brush. At every sound I would nearly jump out of my own boots and drop his. I fancied every moment that the girls would see my candle and give the alarm of burglars or that my friend would be taken ill and get up and find me brushing his shoes. Oh, I had a pretty time of it! He stayed a week, that Englishman, and what with loss of sleep and overstrained nerves I'm a wreck."

"Well, why on earth didn't you have the moral courage to"—

"Moral courage! I'd like to see the man who'd have the moral courage to tell an English gentleman with a monocle that the ways of even well bred people in this country differ from those he's been accustomed to! My friend, you do not know the breed!" And he drowned his sorrows and braced his nerves with a second cup of unsurpassed coffee.—New York Tribune.

Grocer—What have you been doing in the cellar so long?

Grocer's Apprentice—I have been cleaning out the sirup measure. It was so choked up that it didn't hold more'n half a quart.

Grocer—Oh, that's what you've been doing? Well, you take your hat and go home and tell your father to put you into the tract distributing business. You ain't fitted for the grocery trade.—London Answers.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

General Grant's Namesake.

A number of years ago a son was born to a colored woman in the south, and as he was her first she looked upon him with pride and was much at a loss to find a name for him. Relatives and friends, including her mistress, were appealed to; but, although many names were suggested, all were discarded.

After many days of deliberation she said one morning to her mistress: "Miss Mary, I'ze found a name for my boy. I'm going to name him Delicious."

"Why," said the lady, "where did you get that name?"

"Oh," she cried, "I'm going to call him that 'cause I want to name him for Mr. Grant."

When it was explained to her that the great hero was named Ulysses and not Delicious, she was somewhat disturbed in mind, but Ulysses did not please her, so the boy had to begin life burdened with the name Egbert Eugene.—Detroit Free Press.

William Wirt's Reformation.

William Wirt, the great lawyer, attorney general of the United States and prosecutor of Aaron Burr when he was tried for treason, was stupefied and made sensuous by liquor. At times he lost all self control and self respect. On one occasion while drunk he fell in the streets of Richmond. While lying there asleep Miss G., the most beautiful woman in the city, to whom he was betrothed, came along, saw him and placed her handkerchief, on which was her name, over his face. He wakened, saw the name, learned the incident, and it reformed him.—Beverages.

His Scheme.

Filbert—Aren't you afraid to be so knowing about poker when your wife is around?

Kilty—Quite the contrary. It is the man who laughs the loudest over a poker joke who knows the least about the game. My wife knows that, and it is my cue to be the man who does the loud laughter.—Boston Transcript.

LITTLE LEAKS.

What They May Lead to and How They May Be Stopped.

It is possible to lose much by littles. A classic case is that of the royal granary which was depleted of its stores by a succession of "one rat came and took one grain away, and another rat came and took another grain away." So fortunes are dissipated, and reputations are destroyed, and health is ruined and character itself lost—by little extravagances, little indiscretions, little negligences, little obliquities.

Benjamin Franklin was a great economist not alone of money, but of time. He said, "To teach a young man to shave himself is as good as to give him a purse of gold." He had reference to the minutes as well as the dimes it costs to patronize the barber.

Elihu Burritt stopped the leak in his time and taught himself a dozen languages. Gladstone was equally wise, for he read Plato in his carriage between Carleton terrace and the parliament buildings.

A prosperous man ascribed his success in business to his habit of permitting no particle of material to be unproductive. He experimented and elaborated until he found a method of disposing profitably of every atom left over.

There is a man in New York who has in bank a goodly sum of money which he calls his "'tis but fund." When tempted to needless expenditure by the specious plea, "'Tis but a nickel or a quarter or a dollar," he denies himself and drops the amount he would have spent into a portable bank, which is filled with amazing rapidity. That is one way to stop a leak.

More serious than any prudential matter are the little leaks in life by which vital energy is squandered and moral force is diminished, imperceptibly it may be, through what we sometimes regard as inconsequential acts. Lack of order in our methods of labor, indifference to the "minor morals" of hygiene and the "major morals" of honesty and truth, the practical repudiation of personal responsibility, the neglect of duties which arise from our ethical and religious nature—these are the leaks which we must stop or be bankrupt in the world's eyes and in God's.—Saturday Evening Post.

Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season. well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patest medicines manufactured and which is always kept on hand at the home of ye scribe. This is not intended as a free puff for the company, who do not advertise with us, but to benefit little sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this medicine in the house, especially in summer-time.—Lansing, Iowa, Journal. For sale by C. W. Milhous-

FLOWER AND TREE.

Pruning to excess or too frequent or too long is weakening to the tree.

When a branch is removed, the cutting should be close, leaving no stub.

The apple, pear, quince and thorn can be grafted one on another, with varying success.

Wormy fruit in the orchard is best disposed of by the sheep. They eat all without making any choice, as pigs do.

Planting a few trees every fall or spring, as may be convenient, helps materially to keep up a supply of good fruit.

The cherry, peach, apricot, nectarine and almond require a light, dry and warm soil, but may be grown on loose, sandy soils.

Saltpeter is recommended as a quick acting fertilizer for flower beds that seem to be languishing, especially these that show small and pale leafage.

Peach and plum trees are both less liable to diseases when grown in the poultry yard. The trees will make a better growth and at the same time afford shade for the fowls.

Geraniums that have been used for summer bloomers will not flower again until the late spring months. Geraniums for winter blooming should be grown especially for that purpose by keeping the flower buds nipped off until August.

ALL WRONG.

The Mistake is made by Many Seymour Citizen.

Don't mistake the cause of backache
To be cured you must know the cause
It is wrong to imagine relief is cure
Backache is kidney ache
You must cure the kidneys

A Seymour resident tells you how this can be done

Mr. O. Burkdoll of Indianapolis avenue, says. "I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. sold by C. W. Milhous for Mrs. Burkdoll, who suffered from a distressing aching in her back and accasional dizziness. She told me that they cured her of the backache and strengthened her kidneys so that she can rest well nights. A little extra exertion does not prostrate her as it did formerly, and the dead tired feeling mornings does not oppress her as it once did. We can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to any one suffering from their back or kidneys."

For sale by all dealers, price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the U. S. Remembe the Doan's and take no other.

Kodol

Digests what you Eat

Dyspepsia Cure

The medical profession is one of the most conservative in the world. It is well that it should be so. We want no experimenting with our lives or health. The physician is naturally and justifiably careful to prescribe no remedy until well satisfied of its merits. So it is no small testimonial to the worth of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure that it is coming into general use among physicians of all classes. They appreciate even more readily than the layman that it gives weak stomachs just the rest they need and are prescribing it freely with wonderfully successful results. No dieting is necessary. Eat all you want. While you are strengthening the body with wholesome food Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is restoring the stomach to perfect health by relieving it of its work. Don't be satisfied with merely temporary relief when this remedy offers a complete cure. "I have used in my practice quite a lot of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure with no failures but relief in almost all cases," writes Dr. W. L. Wallace of Kingstree, S. C. "After an active practice of forty-five years this is the first time I have ever had occasion to publicly advise all dyspeptics that they have a certain remedy in Kodol Dyspepsia Cure."
